Alternativa 3D

di Paolo Franzese

As the years pass by, Flash becomes faster and more powerful when it comes to rendering 3D. You only need to look at the effect Papervision3D has had on the Web industry to see how well suited Flash is for 3D.

There's always been a gap in the market however for a true 3D engine able to render fully immersive 3D scenes inside the browser via Flash. Well, that's getting addressed right now with an extremely compelling 3D platform known as Alternativa3D.
